

REMEMBERING, FORGETTING AND FULFILLING 1916: Can the future be built upon the untapped resources of the past?

18 – 19 March 2016
Christ Church Cathedral, Waterford

This conference, which is open to all, will evaluate 1916 and the manner in which it has been remembered and used politically. A critical analysis will be made of the nature of commemoration as well as how history was 'misremembered' in 1916 and thereafter. The question will be addressed as to whether, as an event, 1916 should be consigned to the past or serve as a resource to the future?
